Dorsal Fin

Perfect for both largemouth and smallmouth bass

The NEW Mepps Dorsal Fin is unlike any other in-line spinner. Its unique, innovative vertical fin design, and single hook, allows it to pass through most vegetation without getting hung-up. Because the Dorsal Fin spinner weighs 5/8 oz., it casts a country mile. But, in the water, its neutral-buoyant nylon fin allows it to be retrieved in the same manner as a 3/8 oz. lure. Every Dorsal Fin features a life-like design that includes a holographic eye, a dark back, and a bright throat. It also has a raised gill plate and a moulded realistic scale pattern. Although its silicon skirt allows it to be effectively fished without a trailer, its extended locking-bend wide-gap worm hook is perfect for rigging just about any soft plastic lure. All Dorsal Fins feature a Mepps #4 Aglia blade for maximum thump and vibration.

Technology

Colorado bass fisherman Don Anderson has been fishing bass all his life, and we think he's really going to like the Dorsal Fin. "I have been using Mepps lures exclusively for over 15 years now," Don wrote. "I grew up fishing Kansas bass ponds and that is all my father, brother and uncles tossed." We're glad to be part of Don's fishing success.
